Week 3: Home and Family

During the Holocaust, people had to leave their homes to find somewhere safer to live. People were very sad about this, since their homes represented who they were. Survivors also felt comfortable in their own homes. Many people had to build new homes with their families somewhere else, and recreate that feeling of “home.” Feeling like you are at home means feeling comfortable. You feel like you can do what you want to do, and feel safe. No one can stop you from being yourself, and no one can stop your family from being themselves.

- What makes you feel “right at home” (comfortable)? Is it your toys? Your family? Your pet?
- What are some fun things that you and your family like to do together in your home? Do you guys play games, celebrate holidays, or watch movies together?
- Color in your home and draw a picture of what you and your family do together in your home! You can also include objects that you love in your picture!
